THRESH LEFT-OVER GRAIN—Grain harvesting normally a Fall operation in Canada, is going on hand-in-hand with Spring seeding on the prairies this year. Millions of bushels of 1951 grain was caught in the fields last Fall by early snow. A threshing crew is pictured here at work in the oats field of Ted Lothar, 10 miles south of Edmonton. When the threshing was completed the land was plowed and seeded to the 1952 crop.

Rockyford Farmer Imports Cattle

Emil Cammaert of Rockyford, Alta., has received a shipment of seven Shorthorn cattle from Scotland.

About a year ago Mr. Cammaert toured Scotland and the continent, examining herds and picking breeding stock for his Rockyford farm and for other breeders.

Four other imported animals in the same shipment were consigned one each to L. P. Latimer of Olds; Claude Gallinger, Thomas Ives and H. R. Cross, all of Midnapore, Alta.

Royal Ambassador Male Quartet Gives Successful Concert

BEISEKER—The concert in the Beiseker Memorial hall the evening of May 10 by the Royal Ambassador Male Quartet, was a huge success. It will be long remembered by those in attendance.

The program was divided into several sections, these being sacred, Negro spiritual, military, and barbershop.

Selections included in the sacred were "The Lord's Prayer," "Battle of the Republic" and "Beside Still Waters"; in the Negro spiritual section were, "Don't You Let Nobody Turn You Round," "Hush" and "If We Ever Needed the Lord Before." The two encores to this section were, "Come, Lord Jesus" and "I'm New-Born Again."

The two solos Richard Lange presented were much enjoyed by all. They were entitled "The Song of the Open Road," and "Without a Song." The military section included "Song of the Jolly Roger," "I Love a Parade" and "Stout Hearted Men."

John Popowich's solo, the title pertaining to a sheep, was appreciated, even though it may have brought disappointment to a certain extent, due to the fact that at least a few more "Baa's" were expected. Those in attendance knew he could do it.

The last section brought the songs "You Had a Dream," "Bicycle Built for Two" and "Kentucky Babe."

Mrs. Richard Lange accompanied the quartet at the piano for several of the selections, including the solos.

The attendance was fair considering the busy time. There were 178 adults and 41 children. Thanks to those who attended from neighboring towns.

During the intermission Mr. John Lefse and Mr. Lount gave a short talk, concerning the funds that are required for research, education, and welfare, to fight cancer.

Farmers Urged To Maintain Trash Cover For Best Soil Conservation

Plenty of moisture in 1951 meant straw in abundance in nearly every field in Alberta, says G. R. Sterling, Supervisor Soil Conservation and Weed Control, Alberta Department of Agriculture. Some farmers are inclined to take the easy way out and burn the straw and stubble from their fields before seeding. The wise farmer faces the problem and makes an effort to incorporate the straw and stubble into the soil. He knows that trash cover is valuable.

Straw and stubble put into the soil prevents soil drifting and water erosion. To appreciate its value, we have only to consider the soil drifting conditions that have occurred in the northern part of this province in the last few years. In every case drifting fields were either bare summer-fallow or fields where the soil had been so completely pulverized that no trash cover remained. Fields that drift with the wind this spring will not be those where a good trash cover has been maintained. High winds are already providing a forceful reminder that bare soils drift readily. Fields protected by trash cover are weathering the gales successfully.

Trash cover prevents excessive evaporation and soil moisture loss.

The difference will be quickly seen when the next dry spell occurs. Trash cover also prevents erosion damage from heavy, sharp rains, since the trash allows more moisture to be absorbed in a given length of time. Important too, is the fertilizing effect of trash cover. Fifteen hundred pounds of straw on an acre will produce, in addition to other fertilizing elements, approximately 24 pounds of nitrogen which on the market is worth $2.83.

Field demonstrations conducted this spring by the Alberta department of Agriculture in the Fort Saskatchewan, Vegreville and Morinville districts have shown that trash cover can be maintained and a good job done. All the fields chosen for these demonstrations had a very heavy straw cover, the field in the Morinville area having produced 150 bushels of oats to the acre in 1951. Farmers who made their land available for this project were Sandy Melville, Fort Saskatchewan; Jack Lowe, Vegreville; and Maurice Tellier, Morinville.

For effective working of trash cover the straw must be spread evenly over the field. Fields left in windrows in 1951 are proving the greatest problem this year and are showing clearly the advantages of using a straw spreader on the combine at all times. Straw in windrows, however, can be effectively spread with an oscillating harrow. If the straw is very heavy, the middle sized ring may have to be removed from the harrow, leaving only the outer and the inner rings operating.

Straw may be spread by using wide shovel type cultivators—cultivators with 30" shovels or larger. These cultivators should be driven diagonally across the windrows. They will not only scatter the straw but will prepare the way for rolling machinery to cut and incorporate the straw into the soil surface. Once the straw is scattered, a sharp tiller will do a good job of cutting the straw and working it into the soil surface. The tiller must be sharp. All tillers were sharpened during the demonstrations mentioned and the difference between the sharp and the dull tiller clearly indicated.

The wide type discer will do a reasonable good job but seems to take second place to the tiller from the standpoint of incorporating the heavy trash into the soil. The discer too must be sharp and in some cases the rear wheel weighed down. Blade type cultivators did a good job at all three demonstrations.

At the Morinville demonstration, where the straw was heaviest, a double disc drill was used to seed through the trash. It was quite evident that such a machine was quite capable of seeding through heavy trash with the seed being placed at a proper depth for good germination.

Coming Tiller Match Discussed

MORRIN—A meeting of the chamber of commerce was held on Tuesday, May 13. The main topic of discussion was the coming Tiller Match. Mr. George Roberts, district agriculturist, showed pictures of calf clubs, grain clubs and the Rumsey Flower Show.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Gimbel and family motored to Calgary on Sunday, May 18, to spend a few days.

Mr. Lloyd Byers and Mr. Bob McGeachie left on Saturday, May 17, to spend a few days at Pine Lake.

Mrs. Reg Morgan, who has been a patient in the Drumheller Hospital for two weeks, returned to her home on Saturday, May 17.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Johnson and Mrs. Dan Cuncannon motored to Calgary Wednesday, May 14, to attend the commencement class of Mr. and Mrs. Johnson's daughter, Marion.

Mr. and Mrs. George Andrews and daughter, Lila, and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Andrews and family were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Stickney.

Mrs. Sauve returned home after spending three months visiting with relatives in Portland, Oregon, and Vancouver, B. C.

Mrs. Ross Sutherland, of Loon Lake, Sask., is visiting at the home of her sister, Mrs. George Storch.

In the ten-year period from 1941 to 1951 five persons emigrated from Canada for every six persons who immigrated to Canada.

Any Regrets, Edmonton?

Last week it was announced in the EDMONTON SUN that a $15,000,000 "Shoppersville" Shopping Centre is to be built in the Municipal District of Sturgeon, half-mile north of the City limits on the Namao road.

We couldn't help thinking of the Detweiler plan that was defeated 18 months ago, when Edmonton taxpayer-electors turned down the offer of a group of New York financiers to build a $100,000,000 "Miracle Mile" shopping centre in downtown Edmonton.

That proposition was defeated by the large Edmonton department stores, the Edmonton Journal and 40% of those who voted. A majority vote in favour of at least 66 2-3% was required and barely more than 60% favourable vote was registered.

Much as the reactionary elements in the City would like to turn back the progress clock, it can't really be done. The Edmonton district will have its "Miracle Mile" shopping districts, but they will be built, as this one is to be built, outside the city limits.

This will be a boon to the farmer-shoppers of the Edmonton district who will be able to drive their cars and trucks to a modern shopping centre where they will be encouraged to park freely, without difficulty, and without parking meter taxes or fines.

We wonder if the citizens of Edmonton will have any regrets.

Tunnel Link

The Library of Congress recently disclosed that Russia had once seriously considered a scheme to link Siberia and Alaska through the construction of a fifty-six mile tunnel under the Bering Sea. There is some indication that the idea has not been completely abandoned in Russia, and, as late as 1946, Radio Moscow hinted that some sort of link in that area might be advisable.

The original Bering Sea tunnel project was an American idea, which Czar Nicholas II looked favorably upon. The trans-Alaska-Siberian Company, a firm made up mostly of Americans, was to build the tunnel in exchange for rights along a 3,000-mile railroad through Siberia to prospect for gold. These rights gave the company a strip of land eight miles wide along the railroad in their search for gold.

Far-fetched as the idea may seem, it is not improbable that one of these days Alaska and the Soviet Union will be linked by some sort of tunnel or other arrangement. As Alaska steadily builds and Siberia is developed on the other side of the sea, the link will become increasingly more desirable from the standpoint of inter-continental trade. If sufficient roads are ever constructed in Siberia, such a connection would allow Alaskan, Canadian and Northwestern States residents to drive to Russia, China, Korea and even all the way to India and the Middle East or straight through to Europe without having to ever board a ship.

Ask Machinery Probe

A federal inquiry into causes of high prices of farm machinery was urged recently in the house of commons by M. J. Coldwell. He said that conclusions of a parliamentary committee on farm machinery prices in 1937 coincided with those of this year's Saskatchewan legislative committee in that implement prices were out of line with returns received by farmers for their produce.

Four large implement companies failed to provide the Saskatchewan committee with necessary information to carry out its enquiry, but that this did not prevent obtaining evidence which clearly indicated high prices and resulting high profits in the industry, said Mr. Coldwell. A provincial legislature, he said, cannot ascertain whether a combine is in existence or whether a combine did exist.

How To Kill

By JACK SCOTT

Murder mysteries are intriguing and probably account for the staggering sale of detective story magazines, but I am obsessed by a more macabre aspect of the fine art of murder. Like the fisherman who broods over the big one that got away, I am more interested in the killers still at large.

The sobering fact is that we have no way of knowing the true statistics on homicide, no way of knowing how many murderers are walking the streets as free men, no way of knowing what they did with the bodies.

The crimes of passion, the spur-of-the-moment killings induced largely by alcohol or jealousy are almost always detected, but there is no way of knowing how many cunning, cold-blooded, pre-meditated slayings have been committed successfully.

We cannot know of the perfect crimes.

You might suppose that murder is the most difficult of all crimes to get away with. Not at all.

A certain detective friend of mine whose whole adult life has been spent sniffing down the gory trails of violent deaths, once claimed that he could successfully handle a round dozen murders himself, murders without a trace, yet each demanding an original technique in the act and the disposing of the cadaver.

Ever hear of the Missing Person Bureau? Each major city has lists as long as your arm. Where are those people? Well, most of them have strayed and become lost in the crowd of the world. But how many lie bludgeoned in some lonely woods? Or weighted at the bottom of the river? Or grey ashes in a furnace grate?

Most good detectives think along such lines, mainly because they've all seen so many "natural" deaths that were strongly suspicious.

The law itself is, in a sense, on the side of the murderer. Few laymen realize the amount of evidence it takes to convict a man of homicide.

Time after time the authorities will survey the evidence, often knowing in their hearts that they are dealing with an authentic criminal case, but will decide that the element of so-called "reasonable doubt" makes it inadvisable to press a charge. To an Attorney-General only admissible fact is important.

The law holds that a man is innocent until proven guilty and hard proof is often mighty tenuous.

Consider, for example, the apparent suicides, the jumps off the end of boats, the gas turned on, the leap from tall buildings. In case after case the murderer, if such there was could have been the only witness.

It is claimed that even the heart attack may be brought on by a methodical use of certain drugs over a long period.

It might be argued that the missing link in this kind of speculation is that few people have a motive for murder.

There are, however, a good many. Financially, there are the insurance and inheritance aspects, the kind of thing that caused little Alfred Guay to smuggle a bomb aboard that airliner. Emotionally there are jealousy, hatred, euthanasia.

Some professional criminologists take the view that there's a little murder in the best of us, especially in a post war period when killing may seem relatively less important and when a good many neuroses are in full flower.

It is worth considering, too, that murder may be a hobby. I remember discussing this morbid subject with my detective friend.

"A modern Bluebeard?" he asked. "Why not?" Maybe your neighbor is one. Maybe you passed one on the street today. You see, we presume there is innocence behind an innocent face. We are unwilling to speak of evil of our fellow men, yet in all the animal world there's none quite so evil as the human."

Note and Comment

The Power of the (Weekly) Press! George Renouf, veteran member for Swan River—speaking in the Manitoba Legislature—told how he gained admission to a political meeting in London during a visit to the Old Country last fall.

When he arrived the hall was packed. Said doorkeepers: "Nobody admitted now, except members of the Press." Declared George stoutly: "Well, I'm from Canada, and I represent the Canadian Press." Doorkeeper: "What paper?" George: "Swan River Star and Times."

Apparently that was Open Sesame—George said it got him the "best seat in the house." (But Editor Harry Munro of Swan River Star & Times complains that reporter Renouf hasn't yet turned in his coverage of that meeting.)

One In 23: An Intolerable Record

(From the Calgary Herald)

The Alberta government has finally admitted that it wasted the taxpayers' money in 1947 when it called into being the Royal Commission on Child Welfare.

That commission, which set for more than a year hearing the most damning evidence against the standards of welfare service, in this province, made 23 specific recommendations for the improvement of welfare policies. Health and Welfare Minister Dr. Cross has now stated that only one of these recommendations has been implemented in the three years since the report was issued.

This statement is certainly clear. Yet it conflicts with the honorable minister's previous statements. Last year at this time, when the Opposition was attempting to get a frank answer to the same question, Dr. Cross reported that "some (recommendations) were in effect, some were put into effect thereafter and some weren't adopted and won't be because the welfare experts did not consider they were to the benefit of the people of the province." What the minister was trying to get across, apparently, was that "some" really means "one."

Dr. Cross also managed to throw new light on the purpose of the child welfare commission. He told the Opposition that the purpose of the report was to find out whether statements made by a certain person were true. Perhaps the three judges on that commission were in error therefore when they detailed in their report that "the purposes of our inquiry" were to investigate "certain charges, allegations, and reports relating to the child welfare branch, to investigate 'any other specific charges' against the branch brought before the commission, and 'to report to whether the policies followed by the child welfare commission were in the best interests of children and other citizens and, if not, to make such recommendations as the commission may in their discretion consider proper'."

That those policies were not the best interests of this province, the list of recommendations made abundantly clear to everyone but the Alberta government. Only one proposal, apparently, was "worthwhile."

The cross-border placement of children will continue. Far case work, recognized by all social workers as sound, will continue to be ignored in Alberta. Public representation on the child welfare commission will not be permitted. Careful inquiry into foster homes and curtailment of "work" homes will not be encouraged. Girls, not found to be delinquent by the courts, will still be committed to correctional institutions. The superintendent of the child welfare branch will still commit children to places of confinement other than a detention home without court hearing. In other words, the handling of child welfare will remain in poor state as it was found to be three years ago.

How long will arrogance and negligence continue unchecked?

Voice of the People

IMPASSABLE ROADS

I wonder if you are aware of the appalling condition of some of our municipal roads. I am speaking specifically of two of our roads in the district of Belmont, just two miles outside of the city of Edmonton.

Perhaps you would be interested to learn that for a whole week, water was pouring over them in four or five different places. One spot in particular the water is some two to three feet deep for a distance of 30 or 40 yards.

Needless to say, this is a grave inconvenience to those people of this district who are forced to use the roads regardless of conditions. I know of several incidents of people whose cars stalled half-way through due, of course, to wet wiring. One instance, a friend of ours, his wife and his three children sat in the middle of this stream and waited for their distributor to dry, while the water streamed in under the doors.

The other road I speak of has four different streams going across, if they are not nearly as wide nor deep.

All this, of course, is due to the fact that these roads have never been lifted and the ditches have never been cleaned properly. Some years ago the people of this district drew up a petition which the majority of taxpayers signed. This petition demanded the attention of the authorities for the building of these two roads. What happened to this petition I cannot say, but I do know that it was delivered to the powers in effect at that time. At any rate, there was nothing done to our roads.

I personally has been promised that our roads would be attended to, but with no results. Even in the summer these roads are rough and terrible due to the amount of traffic they carry as there is a gravel pit at the end of one of them.

premier has a farm at the extreme end of this trail, and still we get no attention. Really, that is pay-off I will never understand. Thank you for taking the time to read this. Perhaps the next time you are asked to print an article about the state of Alberta roads you will also use your tongue in your cheek.

NEIGHBORS

I think when God made neighbors He was glad because He knew the joy there is in sitting down to chat with friends and neighbors. Skies somehow never loom grey. Our joys are deeper—shared. 'Twas easier far to bear a pain. When someone said she came To do a patch of mending. Or to sew a waiting hem—Even just to dream away an hour. With a neighbor now and then. Makes us glow with love of life. Right within our acre here. For to know we all are neighbors Brings a bit of heaven near.

SUNDAY ROAD WORK

On Easter Sunday, when the world was celebrating one of its greatest festivals of the year, Lord's resurrection from the dead, a local farmer was out with a tractor dragging the road east of George Kozlowski. What does Lord's Commandment "Remember thou keep holy the Sabbath Day" mean to him? Did he donate public service gratis? A service which could have been performed the day before or the day after, will he submit his bill to the local office for payment?

HARMONY HOUSE WILL PROMOTE HOME TALENT

By A. V. BOUCIER

We hear a great deal about Alberta's fabulous mineral wealth nowadays, and the millions of dollars being invested to develop that wealth—the many new industries that are being established as a result. Harmony House, however, is investing in one of Alberta's finest resources—one that is too often overlooked—the musical talent of her people. Harmony House believes that there is talent second to none in Edmonton and in the province of Alberta and that much of that talent is as yet undeveloped.

A year ago Harmony House established a modern sound-proof Recording Studio equipped with up-to-date recording equipment, and has since done every kind of recording.

What do people record? That is a question often asked. It is the experience of Harmony House that people are interested in recording almost every sound you can think of. They have recorded dogs, parrots, budgie birds, the sound of a screeching hinge, laughing records and sound effects of every description.

They have recorded the human voice all the way from the baby cooling to grandmother sending her greetings to England.

The recording of weddings has now become very popular and Harmony House is engaged by many young couples who record the ceremony. There is always a certain amount of hilarious conjecture on the part of relatives as to the use which will be made of the recording by the bride or groom in later years.

There is of course, more recording done in the field of music than in any other field of sound.
Concerts, orchestras, singers, tap-dancers and those who play instruments of every kind, all require the services of Harmony House.

Cattlemen Urged To Hold Shipments With Price Support On Livestock

As recently announced in Parliament, the Federal Government has agreed to establish a floor price on cattle until the United States embargo on Canadian cattle and beef shipments is removed. This price, until July, will be on the basis of $25.00 per hundredweight for good steers at Toronto, Montreal and Moncton, $23.35 at Winnipeg, $22.80 at Saskatoon, $22.55 at Edmonton and Calgary, and $23.40 at Vancouver. At the beginning of June a floor price for the month of July will be announced, and at the beginning of each month thereafter the floor price for the next month will be announced in order that the producer may know what the floor price on his cattle will be for the next two months.

In 1951 Canada exported about 400,000 head of cattle either as cattle or beef, for which no outside market is at present available although it is hoped that domestic consumption will increase with the lower consumer prices for beef. If the market is over supplied, it seems the price to producers will remain at the floor. With the fixing of the floor price, it will be possible for the producer to market his cattle in an orderly manner with only finished cattle reaching the market, and if this is done the producer may expect to continue to sell all his cattle without undue market gluts and may, from time to time receive prices higher than floor.

There are various reasons why it will be in the interests of the cattle industry to delay the marketing of cattle while the United States embargo is still in effect, and attention is drawn specifically to the following:

1. When American embargo is lifted, that market will again be available.

2. Orderly marketing will relieve market congestion and undue pressure on prices received by farmers.

3. The establishment of floor price means that the producer will always be in a position to obtain a minimum price for the particular grade of animals which he has to market until such time as the United States embargo is lifted. It is possible that the extra feeding, with the resulting weight gain, may improve the grade and therefore increase returns to the producer.

4. During the pasture season, cattle make their most economical gains on grass and this is available on most farms and also in community pastures in Western Canada.

School Of Agriculture Summer Courses

Attractive and interesting programs are being planned for the summer courses at the Schools of Agriculture and Home Economics and the dates of some of these courses have already been set.

A Club Leader's Conference will be held on July 3 and 4 at the School of Agriculture at Olds and during the same week an Alumni Short Course will be held at the School of Agriculture, Vermilion. During the week of July 7th, courses will be held at all three Schools of Agriculture. The Women's Institute Girls' Club Annual Convention will be held at Olds, and Junior Club Week will be held at Vermilion. The School of Agriculture at Fairview will hold a Farm Women's Week during the week of July 7th.

During the week of July 14th, Junior Club Week will be held at the School of Agriculture at Olds, and a Farm Women's Week will be held at the School of Agriculture, Vermilion. Farm Women's Week for women in Southern Alberta will be held at the Olds School of Agriculture during the week of July 21st. The Vermilion Fair Camp will be held during the week of July 21st at Vermilion, and a Junior Club Week will be conducted at Fairview.

For groceries Canadians spent three times as much in 1951 as in 1941—$1.608 million compared to $567 million; independent merchants did 62.8 per cent of the total business; chain operators the remainder.

This Agriculture

By G. W. ROBERTSON

Field Supervisor, Morrin, Alta.

There is an Agricultural Service Board in Starland Municipality. By an Act of the Alberta Legislature of 1945 the service boards were set up and this municipality was among the earlier ones to make use of the legislation.

In the Act all constituent parts of the Board are defined. It is left for different boards to develop their own functions to serve as a link between the individual ratepayer, the Council of the Municipality concerned and the Department of Agriculture. The representative of the Department of Agriculture is the District Agriculturist, the Municipal Council is represented by two councillors and the ratepayers by two representatives. The Service Board so constituted is empowered to engage the services of a permanent Field Supervisor.

The duties of the Board are primarily of an advisory nature:

(a) To act as an advisory body and to assist the Council or the Minister of Municipal Affairs, as the case may be, and the Minister of Agriculture, in the matters of mutual concern;

(b) to advise with respect to the organizing and directing of weed control and soil and water conservation programs;

(c) to advise with respect to and assist in proper land utilization with a view to improving the economic welfare of the farmer;

(d) to promote and develop any agricultural policies to meet the needs of the municipal district or improvement district, as the case may be.

As constituted at the present time the Service Board of Starland Municipality is made up of the District Agriculturist, N. F. Bell; Councillors Lowell Nelson and Howard Stevenson; and ratepayers W. Shadlock and A. C. B. Grenville. The Field Supervisor employed by this Board is G. W. Robertson.

The next meeting of the Board will be held in the Municipal office in Morrin on Friday, May 23.

EGG FOLDOVERS

Six hard-cooked eggs, chopped.
One medium stalk celery, chopped.
One small onion, minced.
One slice tomato, minced.
Two sprigs parsley, minced.
One-third cup salad dressing or mayonnaise.
One teaspoon prepared mustard.
One tablespoon prepared horseradish sauce.
One teaspoon salt.
One-half teaspoon pepper.
One-fourth teaspoon thyme.
One cup sifted flour.
One-third cup shortening.
Three tablespoons ice water (about).
Oven temperature: 425 degrees F.
Baking time: fifteen minutes.
Serves: Six.

Combine the egg, celery, onion, tomato and parsley in a bowl. Mix in the salad dressing; add the mustard, horseradish sauce and seasonings. Set aside. For the pastry: Cut the shortening into the sifted flour and salt in a mixing bowl until the mixture re-sembles coarse meal. Sprinkle with enough ice water to form a dough; mixing with fork. Press into a ball; chill briefly. Cut into six equal parts. Roll lightly upon a floured board into squares (5 in.). Place one-sixth the filling in the centre of each square. Fold over the edges like an envelope; press lightly. Continue until all the squares are filled and folded. Place upon a baking sheet. Bake in a hot oven until the pastry is nicely browned. Serve hot with a vegetable and a salad.

New Road-Laying System Planned

EDMONTON—Highways Minister Gordon Taylor said Monday that in future a year will elapse between the time that stabilized gravel base is laid on new roads and the time a two-inch blacktop surfacing is added.

Mr. Taylor said the practice has been to lay the same year all three layers comprising main highways, a gravel bed, stabilized gravel base and blacktop surfacing.

The year's interval will allow time for discovery of failures or faults in the road before the blacktop is added.

Then, if we find frost boils or problems of drainage or soil composition, we can correct it without losing the hardtop surfacing," Mr. Taylor said.

The stabilized gravel base is usually nine to 15 inches thick.

In Canada and the United States are probably one million persons whose hearts have been damaged as a result of rheumatic fever.

Lac La Nonne Farmer Has Large Collection Of Native Bird Eggs

Archibald D. Henderson who has the most complete collection of North American birds' eggs says egg collecting is not so bad as some people think.

"There is a lot of prejudice against egg collecting," said the 74-year-old farmer, "but I'd like to point out there are few hobbies quite so harmless."

"People think that when we take a set of eggs we destroy a whole brood of young birds. This isn't quite correct because within two weeks the parent birds have built a new nest and laid more eggs. That applies to almost every bird."

8,000 IN EXHIBIT

Henderson, a farmer in the Lac La Nonne district, about 50 miles northwest of Edmonton has about 8,000 eggs in his collection including those of the now-extinct Passenger Pigeon and the Guadeloupe Petrel.

The oologist, technical name for an egg collector, has in his collection eggs of 930 species found in areas from southern California to Greenland. Henderson is credited with several "firsts" in oology and ornithology.

Henderson is credited with finding a Bonaparte Gull, the first since 1866 when one was discovered by a Hudson's Bay Company factor in the Arctic. The Alberta farmer's find was a nest in the "Lac La Nonne" area in 1926.

About 1923 he found several nests of Great Grey Owls. He supplied a nest, a set of eggs and mounted specimens to a large United States museum. The Alberta farmer said that as far as he knows the specimens he provided form the complete set in a museum anywhere in the world.

PATIENCE A FACTOR

Egg collecting calls for great patience.

"First you've got to find them," Henderson said, "and that's quite a trick itself."

Then identification must be made beyond the slightest doubt. Sometimes this involves waiting for hours until the birds return to their nest.

After the eggs are blown comes the tedious work of filling out data cards, cataloguing and indexing the eggs.

Henderson, a native of Barrie, Ont., came west in 1898. He left the train at Calgary, travelled to Rocky Mountain House and rode down the North Saskatchewan River to Edmonton on a raft.

Anemia In Pigs

In spite of the ease with which it can be remedied anemia in pigs is still far too common on Alberta farms, says Dr. G. S. Wilton, Veterinary Pathologist, Alberta Department of Agriculture.

Anemia results from a deficiency of iron, and is particularly prevalent in pigs farrowed in the late fall, winter and early spring. Pigs on pasture are able to obtain all the iron they need from the soil. When they are confined in floored pens this source is cut off. Before birth the pig gets enough iron from the blood of the

KENNETH C. DAFFOE of Alpen, member of the Newbrook Community Church, is graduating from Prairie Bible Institute, Three Hills, Alberta. Commencement exercises were held April 8, 1952. Mr. Daffoe expects to be working with the Canadian Sunday School Mission for about a year. After this he anticipates foreign missionary work in the Dutch New Guinea.

sow, but since the sow's milk does not contain iron other ways of providing it must be found.

Anemia may be prevented by administering reduced iron by mouth on the 3rd, 10th and 17th days of life. The dose is one-half as much as will lie loosely on a dime. A few drops of concentrated cod liver oil at the same time is very beneficial and it also makes the iron easier to administer. Some people prefer to throw in fresh sods twice a week instead of giving the iron to the pigs individually. The sods may be sprinkled with a solution of iron sulphate. The iron sulphate solution is made by dissolving one ounce of iron sulphate in a quart of water.

How About Alberta?

Leatham-Campbell Vows Pledged

BEISEKER — A wedding of much interest to friends in the Red Deer and Beiseker districts was solemnized in the rectory of St. Mary's Church, Beiseker at 10:30 a.m. Wednesday, May 14, when Dorothy Eleanor, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Campbell of Beiseker became the bride of Mr. Kenneth Joseph Leatham of Red Deer, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Leatham of Calgary.

The Rev. Father Tennant officiated at the ceremony which was attended by relatives and close friends of the bridal couple.

The bride, who was given away by her father, was lovely in a floor-length gown of white chantilly lace and pleated nylon net. Her finger-tip veil of white nylon net edged with chantilly lace fell from a headdress of pleated mohair and lily of the valley.

Mrs. Otto Schielke of Drumheller, aunt of the bride, was matron of honor. She was attired in a floor length gown of yellow nylon net and chantilly lace and carried a bouquet of blue carnations.

Miss Ann Campbell of Strathmore, the bridesmaid, who carried a bouquet of pastel carnations, was gown in a floor length model of mauve nylon net and chantilly lace, styled exactly like that of the matron of honor, and both wore mohair headdresses to match their gowns.

Mr. Louis Benini of Calgary attended the groom and Mr. Bob Leatham, brother of the groom, ushered the guests to their seats.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the Beiseker Community hall at which the bride and groom received the guests, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Campbell and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Leatham. Mrs. Campbell, mother of the bride, was attired in navy sheer with white accessories and wore a corsage of white gardenias. Mrs. Leatham, mother of the groom, wore a gown of grey sheer, a grey hat, and corsage of pink roses.

Places were set for 150 guests and the tables were decorated with apple blossoms, May flowers and tulips. The bride's table was centred by a three-tier wedding cake set in a bed of white etulle and flanked by bowls of apple blossoms, May flowers and tulips.

The hall was decorated with boughs of cedar sent from B.C. by Mrs. Henry Brown of Rossland, aunt of the bride.

Among the many out of town guests were the following Beiseker old-timers: Mr. and Mrs. A. A. MacDonald, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Kirkpatrick, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Gibson, Mrs. Warren Nickelson, Miss Eileen MacKay, Mrs. Edith Walker and Mrs. Joe Fox, all of Calgary, and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Allen of Aldrie, and Mrs. Reid and three daughters of Morinville.

Mr. Louis Schmaltz acted as toastmaster and the Rev. Father Tennant proposed the toast to the bride to which the groom responded.

Later in the afternoon, at the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Campbell, east of Beiseker, the ladies of the Level Land district were hostesses to about 150 guests who dropped in to extend their good wishes to the bride and groom. At this time a chest of silver was presented to Mr. and Mrs. Leatham from the Level Land and district neighbors.

A dance was held in the Community hall that evening which was attended by almost 300 residents of the district who came to extend their good wishes. Music was supplied by Cliff Harvey's Drumheller orchestra. Everyone had a fine time and all were on hand to wish the bride and groom "God-speed" when they left on their honeymoon trip to Banff.

The bride's going away costume was a three-piece pic-a-pic suit in a grey-taupe shade with which she wore pink accessories and a tiny pink hat trimmed with pink coque feathers.

On their return from their honeymoon trip Mr. and Mrs. Leatham will make their home in Red Deer.

WEED CONTROL THAT WORKS IN ALBERTA!

Magrath Man More Than Satisfied With Results

Mr. George Feltger, Magrath, says, "I treated 400 acres of spring wheat with SHELL WEEDKILL Ester 2,4-D and am more than satisfied with the results. The yield was at least 6 bushels per acre better than the strips that were not sprayed. The lack of weeds made harvesting operations much simpler and of course less damage to the elevator. I would not hesitate in recommending SHELL WEEDKILL to anyone."

You'll get results from Shell Weedkill 2,4-D used in Cockshutt low volume sprayers. You get positive weed control resulting in increased yields as high as twenty bushels an acre!

SUMMERFALLOW EARLY

Crops are made mainly by rainfall. Summerfallow stores up rainfall. The earlier the summerfallow is done—preferably immediately after seeding—the more moisture is stored in the soil, hence the better the crop will be in 1953. Farmers, therefore, are well advised to summerfallow early.
